Crush Grafix Racing to Challenge the ESMRA and ENAC Can / AM Series in 2009

Levittown, PA, June 5, 2009 Crush Grafix Racing has announced that it will field riders for the ESMRA and ENAC Can / Am supermoto series.

Crush Grafix Racing was founded in 2008 by team owner Drew Stoerrle. Stoerrle's involvement in supermoto racing began in 2007 while providing design services to the Eastern Supermoto Racing Association. Stoerrle sought further involvement in the series and became the class sponsor of the SM2-250 class for 2008.

In preparation for the 2009 ESMRA and ENAC Canadian / American series Stoerrle recruited four highly talented east coast riders. Kevin Hudasko of Greenbrook, NJ is building on his successful 2008 triple championship winning season by competing in the SMX 250 (Pro Lites*) class. Kevin is currently second in ESMRA SMX 250 points.

Travis Oswald, a Parkesburg, PA native with an extensive motocross background joined CGR following his SMX 250 and SMX Open (Unlimited*) championships in 2008. Oswald is the current points leader in SMX 250 and SMX Open.

Boyd Brower is representing CGR in ESMRA's SMX 450 (Premier*) class and in SMX Open (Unlimited*) for the ENAC Can / Am series. Boyd arrived at CGR with a wealth of moto, scramble, and enduro experience which he applied to his second place points finish in 2008. The Kerhonkson, NY rider is the current ESMRA SMX 450 points leader.

Following an abbreviated season where he showed great promise, flat tracker Dennis Flynn joins CGR teammates Brower in SMX 450 and Oswald in SMX Open (Unlimited*). The young Hopewell Junction, NY rider holds a top ten position in both classes.
